ESPN West Palm Adds Two Local Shows on ESPN 106.3 FM

Three local sports talk shows to air daily for the first time on ESPN 106.3 FM

West Palm Beach, FL – (January 8, 2014) – Good Karma Broadcasting's ESPN West Palm announces the addition of two daily local shows on ESPN 106.3 FM and ESPNWestPalm.com. Beginning Wednesday, January 8, "Josh Cohen & The HomeTeam" will air each weekday from Noon – 2:00 p.m. (EST), and "ESPN West Palm Tonight" will air each weeknight from 6:00 – 7:00 p.m. (EST). The new shows join "Evan Cohen," ESPN West Palm's flagship local afternoon drive show, marking the first time that fans will be able to hear three daily local shows on ESPN 106.3 FM and ESPNWestPalm.com

Josh Cohen & The HomeTeam features longtime South Florida radio personality Josh Cohen along with long-time ESPN West Palm on-air fixture John Martin (JMart) and sports aficionado Joe Colella. The fast-paced show will be a blend of sports and entertainment, incorporating pop culture, social media and real-life experiences, spearheaded by Josh Cohen.

ESPN West Palm Tonight offers fans a daily look into the biggest issues in sports impacting the local community. Hosted by Jeremy Marks-Peltz (JMP), ESPN West Palm Tonight will include regular contributions from ESPN West Palm hosts and reporters as well as figures in the community involved in the stories of the day.

"We are thrilled to be able to offer our fans and partners a lineup featuring a mixture of compelling programming with the biggest local and national names, geared toward serving the diverse and passionate sports fans from Boca Raton through the Palm Beaches and Treasure Coast," GKB Vice-President and ESPN West Palm General Manager Steve Politziner said.
