BDB Assists with Company's Growth in Boca Raton

West Palm Beach, FL - In cooperation with the City of Boca Raton, the Business Development Board of Palm Beach County (BDB), announced that it assisted Accountable Healthcare Staffing (AHS), a national healthcare staffing company headquartered in Boca Raton, in expanding its corporate operations within Palm Beach County to accommodate the company's continued growth.

As a result of AHS's expansion, the company plans to move to a new 10,000 square-foot office space that will allow AHS to substantially increase its Palm Beach County based workforce.

The BDB provided AHS with information on training assistance; introduced the company to Workforce Alliance; and facilitated the incentive process with the City of Boca Raton which resulted in a lease subsidy.

"AHS is an example of a company that considered moving out of Palm Beach County to find office space to accommodate its growth," said BDB President and CEO, Kelly Smallridge. "By working with the City of Boca Raton, the BDB was able to present AHS with a way to meet their needs to expand and to maintain their presence in the county."

"We are pleased about the prospects of scaling up our operations in Boca Raton and remaining in Palm Beach County for many more years. Our business has grown at a rapid rate and we look forward to occupying a much larger space on Yamato Road," stated Robert Adamson, Chairman & CEO, Accountable Healthcare Staffing.
